

CyberPro Consulting

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Policies and Procedures Version Date: 1 Jun 2026

1. CYBERPRO CONSULTING TIMESHEET POLICY

CyberPro Consulting Contractors and Employees who have been deployed to service CyberPro's customers must fill in timesheets unless specifically instructed not to do so.

CyberPro Consulting has a web-based timesheet system, which must be filled in, unless services are being provided for a customer who requires their own format.

If you have been requested to do a timesheet than it must either be the Customer's timesheet or CyberPro Consulting timesheet, not both.

All timesheets must be submitted to CyberPro Consulting finance/admin and not to the customer, unless specifically agreed otherwise.

CyberPro Consulting's clients may request for the timesheets to be signed by one of their direct managers prior to payment, which must be done according to the requirements of the Customer and CyberPro Consulting.

Everyone who is required to capture timesheets must comply with the timesheet cut-off by 23:59 on the last day of the monthly contract cycle. For example if the monthly cycle runs from the 21st to the 20th, then the timesheet must be up to date by 23:59 on the 20th day of each month. No changes can be made to timesheet entries after the cut-off date. Any emergency changes required must be agreed with CyberPro Consulting admin on admin@cpconsulting.co.za / 011 656 3394 to not be discarded

All weekdays must be captured for the month, including any leave taken/days not worked. Unless the Contractor/ Employee has been contracted to provide only part-time services to CyberPro, It is your responsibility to log at least 8 billable hours per working day on the timesheet system.

2. CYBERPRO CONSULTING PAYMENT POLICY

Payment for Independent Contractors will be no later than the 27th of every month.

Contractors who invoice CyberPro via companies will be paid as per the payment terms in the Master Services Agreement between the Supplier and CyberPro.

For hourly paid Independent contractors, the standard pay cycle runs from the 21st of the month till the 20th of the next month as a rule, however certain contractors are on a different cycle if the customer they are deployed to operates on a different cycle.

The reason for the 21-20 cycle is to ensure that hourly paid contractor are paid for services in time to reflect payment by the 27th of each month.

Payment notices will be sent to your CyberPro Consulting email address ONLY.

Fixed monthly rate contractors whose contract has ended will get the final payment at the end of the last working month.

Hourly paid contractors whose contract has ended will be paid for the hours worked from the 21st till the 20th as per normal by the 27th of the month, and the remaining hours from the 21st till their last day of services will be paid by the last working day of the month.

- Any payment queries that Independent Contractors on the CyberPro payroll may have need to be addressed to admin@cpconsulting.co.za
- Any payment queries that Supplier Contractors who invoice CyberPro via a company may have need to be addressed to finance@cpconsulting.co.za

3. CYBERPRO CONSULTING LEAVE POLICY (Perm Employees Only)

For permanent CyberPro Consulting Employees:

All leave must be applied for with CyberPro Consulting management in writing, irrespective of whether the Employee is situated onsite at a customer or in-house at CyberPro Consulting.

For onsite located Employee, additional leave approval must also be obtained from the appropriate customer representative.

4. CYBERPRO CONSULTING CONTRACTOR GAP IN SERVICE POLICY

For Independent Contractors and Suppliers:

You are required to notify CyberPro Consulting as well as the Customer to whom you are providing services of any intended gap in provision of services required for your staff servicing CyberPro and our Customer, in writing.

Note: The email address to be used for notification is admin@cpconsulting.co.za

5. REFERRAL INCENTIVES

We encourage every CyberPro Consulting team member to look out for the best interests of the business. If the company is successful this ultimately results in ongoing stability, project diversity and growth opportunities for all our Employees and Contractors.

As part of this philosophy we ask all our Employees and Contractors to actively look out for new business opportunities, as well as for talented people to join our team.

To recognise those individuals who contribute to the growth of the business we have a commission structure in place.

The CyberPro Consulting commission scheme is as follows:

(Directors, Account Managers, and any Employees whose day to day activities are commissioned already are excluded from this scheme)

- If an Employee/Contractor refers a new candidate to CyberPro Consulting, they will be paid R6,000 for a successful on-boarding of the candidate
- If an Employee/Contractor passes CyberPro Consulting a new customer lead, but the Employee /Contractor is not involved in the process other than in identifying the lead for CyberPro Consulting, and assuming that CyberPro Consulting is able to get at least R20,000 worth of gross profit in 6 months from introduction from the new client, the Employee/Contractor will be paid a R6,000 new business identification commission.
- If an Employee/Contractor sources a new customer for CyberPro Consulting, and is actively involved in making introductions, attending meetings and assisting with proposals and presentations, the Employee/ Contractor will get a commission of 4% of all CyberPro Consulting's Gross Profit earned from that new customer for 6 months after the first engagement.
- If an Employee/Contractor identifies a new opportunity at an existing CyberPro Consulting customer, which was not known to CyberPro Consulting Account Managers, and assists CyberPro Consulting in pursuing the opportunity, and assuming that CyberPro Consulting is able to get at least R25,000 worth of gross profit in 6 months from the opportunity, the Employee/Contractor will be paid a R6,000 commission.

Any commissions and incentives will be made either monthly or on conclusion of project phases depending on when sales success can be effectively measured and will be taxable if applicable.

Note: in all cases the interests of CyberPro's customer must also be considered and our actions be ethical when driving new sales opportunities. We aim for a win-win in all our business dealings with our clients. All CyberPro team members must be guided by this philosophy at all times.

6. IT SECURITY POLICY

6.1. Introduction

The CyberPro Consulting IT Security Policy is applicable to all Employees/Contractors of CyberPro Consulting, whether onsite or in-house at CyberPro Consulting.

This version supersedes all previous Computer Security Policies. The scope of this policy is as follows:

- Use of CyberPro Consulting, or CyberPro Consulting Customer owned or sponsored personal computers, laptops, notebooks and related hardware, CyberPro Consulting or CyberPro Consulting Customer owned software and network;
- Any user connected to the CyberPro Consulting network or the network of any of CyberPro Consulting's customer's network

6.2. The Aims of the Policy is:

- To provide a Computer Security policy for CyberPro Consulting including the in-house security policy, as well as the security policy for CyberPro Consulting Employees/Contractors whilst onsite at CyberPro Consulting's customers.
- To provide a secure and productive computing environment at CyberPro Consulting and the same at our customers where applicable.
- To make known and enforce the responsibilities of users when using CyberPro Consulting or CyberPro Consulting Customer computer and network resources.
- To make known the importance of confidentiality and the required discretion when dealing with sensitive information.

6.3. Rationale

- Computer security threats are prevalent in the business environment. CyberPro Consulting has a duty to enforce it's, as well as our customer's IT related security
- Occurrence of a computer security incident could have a significant impact on CyberPro Consulting's and/or our customer's operations.
- An incident may result in:
 - Breach of confidentiality, integrity and availability of CyberPro Consulting and/or our customer's data.
 - Disruption to CyberPro Consulting and/or our customer's business.
 - Loss of CyberPro Consulting and/or customer assets.
 - Professional embarrassment to CyberPro Consulting and/or our customers
- Having an IT usage policy is key CyberPro Consulting as a provider of IT professional services and for the protection of our clients

6.4. Conditions of Use of Computing and Networking Facilities

- The resources provided by CyberPro Consulting or our Customers are for CyberPro Consulting Employees/Contractors for activities directly related to their employment/contract with CyberPro Consulting and their specific role at our Customers or at CyberPro Consulting.

- No other persons are permitted to use CyberPro Consulting and/or our Customer's resources unless specifically authorised by CyberPro Consulting management or an authorised Customer representative.
- It is the policy of CyberPro Consulting that it's and its customer's computing, cloud, AI and networking facilities are intended for use for the delivery of the services which CyberPro Consulting or the Customer has tasked our Employees/ Contractors with only.
- The cloud and/or on prem computing, AI and associated network facilities are not to be used for private, commercial purposes or non-CyberPro-related activities without written authorization from CyberPro Consulting management.
- CyberPro Consulting management and/or the CyberPro Consulting board as appropriate will take the necessary steps, which may include disciplinary action, against any person who violates this policy
- Users shall secure their computers when not in use and at the end of each working day by either logging off and shutting down their machines or by locking their machines by means of a screensaver password or by using
- "Ctrl, Alt and Delete" using the Lock Machine option.
- Users will be held personally responsible for any consequences of an unlawful use of computer privileges resulting from a failure to log off.

6.5. Right to Access Information

- As company networks and computers are the property of either CyberPro Consulting or our Customers, CyberPro Consulting is entitled to allow management to monitor and examine the information stored within. This includes but is not limited to all e-mail communications, internet activity, AI activity, cloud usage activity and any other network activity and access to systems
- CyberPro Consulting will on request allow our Customers access to this information where that information relates to the specific customer
- CyberPro Consulting reserves the right to restrict any user's access to or usage of the computing and networking facilities; to copy, remove, or otherwise alter any information or system that may undermine the normal everyday use of the computing and network facilities.
- When users cease to be formally associated with CyberPro Consulting (e.g. no longer an Employee, Associate or Contractor of CyberPro Consulting), their stored data may be removed from the company computing and networking facilities without notice to them.
- CyberPro Consulting will retain all information and data stored on any of its IT equipment and any of it's cloud hosted infrastructure used by our Employees/ Contractors and owns the rights to all data.

6.6. Unacceptable Use of the CyberPro's and our Customers' Networks

- No person may:
 - Be in possession of confidential information obtained improperly;
 - Be responsible for wilful destruction of any information;
 - Be responsible for deliberate interruption of normal services provided by CyberPro Consulting's and our customer's IT Facilities;
- No person may gain or attempt to gain:
 - Unauthorized access to any part or of the CyberPro Consulting or our Customers' on prem networks or cloud infrastructure;
 - Access to another user's information stored on the network without permission.
 - Use of any password other than their own to access any computer system whether permitted by the owner of that password or not (passwords should be changed regularly as required by the IT Security policy in place).
 - Be responsible for inappropriate use of the facilities.

- No person may engage in any hacking activity utilizing CyberPro Consulting's or our customer's IT infrastructure. Hacking is a criminal activity and criminal charges will be laid should such activity occur.
- No person may install or remove authorized software from CyberPro Consulting's or our Customer's computers or cloud infrastructure.
- All software must be licensed, and no user will be permitted to install, copy or remove any software without express permission from CyberPro Consulting or our customers' management or authorised IT staff.
- "Authorized software" refers to all software purchased, supported and developed by CyberPro Consulting, or our customer in cases where CyberPro Consulting Employees/Contractors are providing services to specific customers. All other software is considered illegal.
- Any customer specific software must be removed from CyberPro Consulting equipment should the user move to servicing another CyberPro Consulting customer, or in-house
- External work or use of the computing and networking facilities shall not be undertaken which would prevent CyberPro Consulting or our customer's users from having their usual access to the facilities, unless authorised by the relevant management

6.7. Communications

- Employees/Contractors will not wilfully nor knowingly record, transmit or process information that infringes any patent or breaches any CyberPro Consulting or our customer's copyright
- Storing or transmitting sexually explicit graphics, text or any other message that can be construed to be harassment or disparagement of others based on, inter alia, their gender, race, sexual orientation, age, national origin, or religious or political beliefs using CyberPro Consulting's or our customers' network is not permitted.
- Electronic mail is inherently not secure and sensitive confidential information should not be sent through the e-mail system. Should confidential mail be sent, it should be sent with acceptable business risk.
- All email business related email must be sent using the CyberPro Consulting email address. Should the customer require for onsite CyberPro Consulting resources that they use the customer's issued email address, then that email must be used whilst the CyberPro Consulting resource is onsite.
- All CyberPro Consulting emails will incorporate the standard CyberPro Consulting logo and signature format, which may change from time to time
- The transmitting of confidential CyberPro Consulting or our customers' information other than in the normal course of business, such as Source code, pricing models, quotations, tenders, strategy documents, etc. is strictly forbidden.
- No images, music, audio, video, adverts etc. are allowed to be sent via e-mail where these are not in line with the senders' business function.
- Each Employee/Contractor is responsible for the content of all text, audio, programmes or images that he/she place, retrieves or sends over the e-mail/Internet system.
- No e-mail or other electronic communications may be sent which hide the identity of the sender or represent the sender as someone else or someone from a different company. All messages communicated on the CyberPro Consulting's and our customer's email/Internet system must contain the Employee's/ Contractor's name
- Employees/Contractors should be aware all messages or information sent by them to another individual outside of CyberPro Consulting or outside the customer where they are providing services, are statements that reflect on CyberPro Consulting, as well as on our customers, if sent from the customer's email.
- Selective appropriate usage of all distribution lists/target groups at CyberPro Consulting or at our customers must always be observed. Content must be clearly targeted at the relevant people only and not just mailed to a Global Group.
- Employees and Contractors must not post, share, comment on, or otherwise publish any information on social media platforms (including but not limited to LinkedIn, Facebook, X/Twitter, Instagram, WhatsApp groups, or any other public or semi-public forum) that discloses or could reasonably be construed as disclosing confidential information relating to CyberPro Consulting, its customers, ongoing projects, commercial terms, or personnel matters.

- Employees and Contractors are reminded that even where a social media account is personal, statements made about employers, clients, colleagues, or work activities may constitute a breach of confidentiality, a reputational risk to CyberPro Consulting or its customers.
- When posting on social media in a professional capacity, Employees and Contractors must make clear when views expressed are personal and not representative of CyberPro Consulting.

6.8. Security

- To maintain the integrity of CyberPro Consulting's as well as our customers' computing and network facilities, connections to the CyberPro Consulting or relevant customer network or cloud hosted environments are made or altered only by management approval at CyberPro Consulting and by the IT facilities personnel at CyberPro Consulting's customers
- Access to the CyberPro Consulting server rack, computer room and our customer's computer rooms or cloud environments, and computer communications equipment is restricted to a limited number of Employees/Contractors as authorized by CyberPro Consulting Management and our customers' IT Management respectively.
- Only Employees/Contractors that have a bona fide reason for access will be provided with such access.
- All users on the CyberPro Consulting network belong to specific groups in line with their job function and receive access to specific data and network facilities accordingly. Similarly, our customer allocates specific group membership to each user and this dictates the rights accordingly. No attempt may be made to circumvent the allocated rights in an attempt to get further rights.
- Remote users will only make use of CyberPro Consulting's and our customer's computing and networking facilities via approved access points and methods. Employees/Contractors must ensure that their home or remote working environment meets a reasonable standard of physical security. Screens must not be visible to other household members or members of the public when confidential or customer data is displayed. This principle applies equally to video calls where confidential information may be visible or audible in the background.
- Confidential documents, whether in physical or digital form, must not be left unattended where they could be accessed by unauthorised persons. Physical documents containing confidential or personal information must be securely destroyed (shredded) when no longer required and must not be disposed of in general waste.
- Where a customer's remote work or security policy applies to CyberPro Consulting Employees or Contractors, those requirements must be followed. Employees and Contractors are responsible for obtaining and familiarising themselves with the relevant customer's remote access policy prior to commencing remote work.
- CyberPro Consulting retains the right to monitor remote access to its systems in accordance with its Right to Access Information policy
- All users must report to the CyberPro Consulting director, or to an appropriate customer IT representative, any actual or potential violation of this policy or any information concerning a violation of this IT Security Policy.

6.9. Use of Personal Computers, Hardware and Related Company Assets

- Personal computers, hardware, software and related CyberPro Consulting and our customers' assets must be safeguarded against environmental hazards (dust, excessive heat, damp, etc.) and unauthorised use at all times. Laptops and other moveable computer devices must be locked away or secured when the Employee/ Contractor is away from his/her said device or laptop.

- As with other company assets, no computer hardware or software may be removed from CyberPro Consulting's or our customers' premises without authorisation from CyberPro Consulting or customer Management. This excludes laptops/notebooks, which were issued to the user.

6.10. Bring Your Own Device (BYOD)

Where an Employee/Contractor uses a personal device (including personal laptops, tablets, smartphones, or other computing equipment) to access CyberPro Consulting or our customer's systems the following requirements apply:

- The Employee/Contractor agrees to comply with CyberPro's customer's BYOD policy where the Employee/Contractor is working on the CyberPro customer's premises and/or systems and where the customer has a BYOD policy
- Use of a personal device for work purposes must be approved in advance by CyberPro Consulting management.
- Personal devices used for work purposes must have up-to-date operating system and application security patches applied, active and current endpoint protection (antivirus/anti-malware) software installed, and screen lock enabled with a PIN, password, or biometric authentication.
- CyberPro Consulting data, customer data, and personal information may not be stored on a personal device beyond what is strictly necessary for the immediate task at hand. Where such data is temporarily stored, it must be securely deleted as soon as it is no longer required.
- In the event that a personal device used for work purposes is lost, stolen, or compromised, the Employee or Contractor must notify CyberPro Consulting management immediately, and in any event no later than 24 hours after becoming aware of the loss or compromise.

7. CONFIDENTIALITY / DATA PROTECTION / PRIVACY POLICY

- 7.1. During the duration of this agreement and subsequent thereto for a period of 5(five) years, the Employee/Contractor shall keep confidential, shall not make use of, whether directly or indirectly, and shall not disclose any of the business, technical, tactical or financial information which the Employee/Contractor may receive from the CyberPro Consulting, or those of its subsidiaries or associate companies, or those of other persons who have made disclosures to the CyberPro Consulting under conditions of confidentiality, other than to persons authorised by the CyberPro Consulting or those employed by the CyberPro Consulting who are required to know such secrets or to have such information for the purpose of their relationship with the CyberPro Consulting.
- 7.2. Should the Employee/Contractor be uncertain as to whether any information is confidential or a trade secret, the Employee/Contractor shall in writing request a ruling from the CyberPro Consulting. The Employee/Contractor shall abide by any such ruling made by the CyberPro Consulting.
- 7.3. These confidentiality obligations shall survive the termination of this agreement and the Employee/Contractor shall at no time disclose any such information to an unauthorised party.
- 7.4. Notwithstanding the a foregoing, information received by the Employee/Contractor which is or becomes available to the public without breach of this agreement, is released in writing by the CyberPro Consulting, is lawfully obtained by the Employee/Contractor from a third party not obligated under a confidentiality agreement and without confidential limitation, is known to the Employee/Contractor prior to the disclosure or is at any time developed by the Employee/Contractor independently of any disclosure from the CyberPro Consulting shall not be construed as confidential information.
- 7.5. Both during and for a period of one year after the end of the contract with the CyberPro Consulting, the Employee/Contractor shall not use, disclose, publish or distribute to any person or entity any information pertaining to the Contractor's billing, fees or hourly rate as applicable to this contract. CyberPro Consulting adopts a zero tolerance to inappropriate conduct within the organisation.
- 8.3 The CyberPro Consulting's Code of Ethics contains the following core company values:
- Integrity
 - Quality
 - Professionalism
 - Accountability
 - Respect
 - Teamwork

- Ethics
- Trust

8.4 This policy applies to any irregularity, or suspected irregularity, involving employees (as well as directors and independent contractors) that may impact or have the potential to impact CyberPro Consulting. Any investigative activity will be performed regardless of the length of service, position/title, or relationship of the alleged wrongdoer to the organisation.

8.5 Management is responsible for the detection and prevention of fraud, misappropriations, and other irregularities. Management should be aware of the types of fraud and misappropriations that may occur within their area of responsibility and will be alert to any sign of irregularity.

Any matters relating to manipulation, omissions or misrepresentation of financial results or financial reporting will be escalated to the Audit and Risk Committee for consideration.

All reported acts of fraud and corruption will be investigated by management, to the full extent of the law, in an independent and objective manner. During the investigation, management has the right to suspend employees if this will facilitate in the investigation and reduce the risk to the organisation.

Employees and Contractors who commit an act of fraud, theft or corruption will face disciplinary action, including possible termination, in accordance with the CyberPro Consulting's disciplinary policy and process.

CyberPro Consulting may seek full recovery against the wrongdoer for any damages arising from the act of fraud or corruption.

8.6 All employees and contractors have a general duty to act in the best interest of their employer. It is the responsibility of all employees and contractors to immediately report all allegations or incidents of fraud and corruption to their immediate Manager or, if the employee or contractor has reason to believe that his/her immediate Manager is involved, to the next level of management.

An employee or contractor who suspects dishonest or fraudulent activity should not attempt to:

- personally conduct investigations or interviews/interrogations related to any suspected fraudulent act; or
- contact the suspected individual in an effort to determine facts or demand restitution.

8.7 Management will treat all information that it receives confidentially. CyberPro Consulting reserves the right to pass on any information to the proper law enforcement agency.

Any employee or contractor who files a report or is consulted during an investigation must keep all information regarding that investigation confidential.

Results of the investigation will not be divulged or shared with anyone other than those with a legitimate right to such information.

8.8 No person will suffer any penalty or retribution for good faith reporting of any suspected or actual incident of fraud or corruption. CyberPro Consulting will take all reasonable steps to ensure that employees who report any such incident are protected from harassment, victimisation and unfair labour practices.

9. CYBEPRO CLIENT'S POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

- 9.1. In addition to CyberPro Consulting policies and procedures, CyberPro Consulting staff and contractors who are located onsite, or are providing services to CyberPro Consulting's customers must ensure that they agree to, sign and familiarise themselves with any applicable customer policies and procedures as required by the relevant customer/s.
- 9.2. Customer policies include but are not limited to Confidentiality, Data Protection, Occupational Health and Safety, Network Access, AI and Cloud usage, Security, Code of Conduct, Timesheet and Absence policies

10. DISCRIMINATION, HARASSMENT AND BULLYING POLICY

CyberPro Consulting is committed to promoting a working environment that is free from unlawful discrimination, harassment, sexual harassment, bullying, victimisation, and adverse action. Behaviour of this kind will not be tolerated under any circumstances and swift disciplinary action will be taken against any worker who breaches this policy. To ensure that the organisation is able to meet this commitment, it requires all workplace participants (including employees and contractors) to treat each other with respect and courtesy in the workplace and refrain from unlawful behaviour. The purpose of the policy is to:

- Create a working environment which is free from unlawful discrimination, harassment, sexual harassment, bullying and victimisation and where all workplace participants are treated with dignity, courtesy and respect
- Implement awareness raising strategies to ensure that all workplace participants know their rights and responsibilities. Among other things, this may include training, providing copies of the policy to employees and discussion at meetings
- Ensure workplace participants are treated fairly on the basis of merit and not on the basis of irrelevant personal characteristics such as their age, sex, race or disability
- Provide a comprehensive procedure for dealing with complaints of harassment, sexual harassment, discrimination, vilification, victimisation and/or bullying if they occur
- Explain the procedure to follow if there is a suspected breach of this policy and encourage reporting of suspected breaches
- Treat all complaints in a sensitive, fair, timely and discreet manner
- Prevent victimisation or reprisals
- Promote appropriate standards of conduct at all times

This policy applies to:

- all employees including casuals;
- job applicants;
- contractors;
- employees from other organisations working at CyberPro Consulting; and people working under the same roof but for different employers.
- The general term used to describe these people is 'workplace participants'

Relevant Legislation

- Basic Conditions of Employment Act [No. 75 of 1997]
- Employment Equity Act 55 of 1998 (EEA)
- The Labour Relations Act 66 of 1995

This policy covers:

- Conduct in the workplace and in situations where work is performed away from the workplace.
- Conduct in the provision of goods and services to customers and clients.

- All aspects of the employment relationship from recruitment, throughout the period of an employee's employment (e.g. in the access an employee has to training, promotion, remuneration benefits etc.) to termination.
- Communication through email, text messaging and social media.
- Situations directly connected with employment such as work-related travel, business meetings, and social events such as Christmas or end of year functions.
- Conduct outside of working hours where the employee's conduct has an adverse impact on the organisation, the employment relationship or the workplace.

10.1. Discrimination and Harassment

CyberPro Consulting will not tolerate unlawful discrimination or harassment in the workplace. Any employee found to have unlawfully discriminated against or harassed another workplace participant (including a customer or client) may be the subject of disciplinary action which may result in termination of employment.

10.2. Sexual Harassment

CyberPro Consulting will not tolerate sexual harassment in the workplace. Any employee/contractor found to have sexually harassed another workplace participant (including a customer or client) may be the subject of disciplinary action which may result in termination of employment. Appropriate action will also be taken where a workplace participant who is not an employee/contractor is found to have sexually harassed another workplace participant.

10.3. Bullying

CyberPro Consulting will not tolerate bullying in the workplace. Any employee/contractor found to have bullied another employee/contractor or workplace participant may be the subject of disciplinary action which may result in termination of employment. Appropriate action will also be taken where a workplace participant who is not an employee is found to have bullied another workplace participant.

10.4. Consequences of Breaching Policy

Any employee found to have acted inappropriately or in a manner contrary to the organisation's stated position in this policy, may be the subject of disciplinary action and if appropriate, termination of employment. Any breach of this policy by an employee/contractor will be dealt with under the relevant contract of engagement and may result in termination of the contract. Workplace participants should also be aware that legal action can be taken against them personally if they discriminate against, harass, vilify, sexually harass, bully or victimise another person at work.

11. CYBERPRO CONSULTING POLICY AGAINST SLAVERY AND TRAFFICKING IN PERSONS

CyberPro Consulting is committed to limiting the risk of modern slavery occurring within its own business, infiltrating its supply chains or through any other business relationship.

11.1. Policy Application

The policy applies to all persons working for or on behalf of CyberPro Consulting, in any capacity, including employees, directors, officers, contractors, consultants and any other third-party representative.

CyberPro Consulting expects all who have, or seek to have, a business relationship with CyberPro Consulting to familiarize themselves with this policy and to act in a way that is consistent with its values.

CyberPro Consulting will only do business with organizations who fully comply with this policy or those who are taking verifiable steps towards compliance.

This policy will be used to underpin and inform any statement on slavery and human trafficking that CyberPro Consulting is required to produce further to the transparency in supply chain requirements of Section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (MSA).

11.2. What Do We Mean by Modern Slavery?

Modern slavery can take many forms; it is a complex and multi-faceted problem. The Modern Slavery Act (MSA) 2015 covers four key criminal activities:

- Slavery: where ownership is exercised over an individual
- Servitude: involves the obligation to provide service imposed by coercion
- Forced and compulsory labour: all work or service, not voluntarily performed, which is obtained from an individual under the threat of force or penalty
- Human trafficking: involves arranging or facilitating the travel of another with a view to exploiting them

Other forms of modern slavery, which will not be tolerated but are not specifically referenced in the MSA, include, but are not limited to:

- Child labor: whilst not always illegal in the jurisdiction in which it takes places, child labor involves the employment of children that is exploitative or is likely to be hazardous to or interfere with a child's education, health (including mental health), physical wellbeing or social development.
- All forms of modern slavery have in common, the deprivation of a person's liberty by another in order to exploit them for commercial or personal gain and amount to a violation of an individual's fundamental human rights.

Tackling modern slavery requires colleagues to play a part and remain vigilant to the risk in all aspect of the CyberPro Consulting business and business relationships.

12.1 In the case of a CyberPro Consulting permanent employee, the employee warrants that they have no interest in any business venture, or any other employment other than CyberPro Consulting.

12.2 In the case of a Contractor whose personnel are contracted to provide Full-Time services to CyberPro Consulting for the duration of the services contract (not applicable to ad-hoc services to CyberPro Consulting);

12.2.1 The Contractor warrants that it's personnel deployed to service CyberPro Consulting:

- have been contracted to provide services on a full-time basis for the duration of this agreement and will dedicate the time, attention, and effort necessary to fulfil CyberPro Consulting's and CyberPro Consulting's customer's requirements, ensuring that all meetings, interactions, and deliverables meet or exceed the expected standards;
- will not, without CyberPro Consulting's prior written consent, accept any other contract, assignment, or employment that:
 - requires more than fifteen (15) hours of weekly effort; or

- materially interferes with my ability to perform my obligations under this agreement.

For the avoidance of doubt, engagements that are minor in nature and do not impact the personnel's ability to perform may be undertaken, provided they are disclosed to and approved by CyberPro Consulting;

- will not, without CyberPro Consulting's prior written consent, accept any contract, assignment, or employment, whether full-time or part-time, with any business or entity that is deemed by CyberPro Consulting's or its customer to be a competitor, or that would reasonably give rise to a conflict of interest.

12.2.2 The Contractor acknowledges that these provisions are necessary and reasonable in light of:

- the level of effort required by the Contractor's personnel to fulfil the contractual obligations; and
- the confidential information and business know-how to which the personnel will be exposed in the course of providing services;

12.2.3 The Contractor further acknowledge that nothing in this declaration shall be construed as creating an employment relationship between the Contractor personnel and CyberPro Consulting and that they remain an independent contractor.
